

FLETCHER BROWN

Founder & President
Kalamath Consulting Group

Fletcher Brown is the Founder and President of Kalamath Consulting Group, a leading Exit Planning consulting firm focused on helping business owners benefit from their life's work. He has 20+ years of Exit Planning experience working with owners across all industries to unlock their business value and find financial freedom. Fletcher was previously a Founder and Co-Owner of Business Enterprise Institute with his father, John Brown, that has supported thousands of professional advisors in the preparation and execution of exit plans.

As an expert in Exit Planning and with strategic relationships in the Merger and Acquisition field, he writes and speaks frequently on the topic to groups of business owners and advisers to business owners.