

MICHAEL VELEZ

Instructional Designer
Franklin Templeton

Michael Velez is an Instructional Designer at The Franklin Templeton Academy. Prior to joining the firm in 2021, Michael served as curriculum designer for the advanced placement program in Finance and Economics for Miami-Dade County Schools and served as an Intelligence analyst in the U.S. Army.

Michael's body of work is focused primarily on behavioral and market economics with an emphasis on emerging trends and their impact on market. Michael holds a bachelor's degree in modern history and an MBA in Finance (Capital Market Structure / Equities) from St. John's University; and is a PhD candidate in the field of behavioral economics.